THE OWNERS

Alyce Peterson

Alyce Peterson was raised in Sacramento, CA and graduated from the University of Pacific in Stockton. So after a 32 years career in sales and managing a marketing team in So. California, Alyce retired to join Leonard in winegrape growing.

The Petersons do not shy away from the hard work of vineyard management. Though the Petersons have a good team to help them, they never hesitate to get on a tractor, tie a vine or pull sucklers, when needed.

The couple approaches the care of their vineyards as land stewards. It has been around before them and want it to be there after they are gone. All of their vineyards are certified sustainable by Lodi Rules.

Leonard Peterson

A hometown boy from Lodi. In 1982, Leonard left Lodi to pursue business opportunities in So. California. Leonard is a serial entrepreneur with a passion for vineyards. When he and his wife, Alyce had the opportunity to purchase a vineyard from an old family friend in Lodi, they jumped at it and purchased their first vineyard in 2006. At the start, the couple kept their “day jobs” as they pursued their passion and learned vineyard management from the prior owner, who still lives on one of the vineyards to this day.

Today, Leonard and his wife, Alyce live in Lockeford, managing the vineyards and other agricultural businesses.
